Classification of the mycetoma complex. The fungal disease mycetoma is one of the most important diseases in tropical and subtropical countries. There are many differences between the classical mycetoma and the iatrogenic mycetoma caused by penicillin or fluoroquinolone treatment. Iatrogenic mycetoma has distinct morphological features, and clinically it may resemble a concomitant invasive fungal infection. We report a series of cases with different mycetoma types, including cellulitis-like mycetoma, atypical mycetoma with bone involvement, iatrogenic mycetoma, and chronic cutaneous sinusitis (CCS). We also review some cases of mycetoma that were misdiagnosed clinically and pathologically.Q: Python Group By Ids I have a problem to group by ID in a column.
